One Island, One Resort

Amanpulo is Aman's hideaway on Pamalican Island, in the Quinilubán group of the Cuyo Islands — the only property on the island: 43 casitas and 17 villas in 85 hectares of jungle and coral sand.

The island is ringed by 5.5 kilometres of white beach and seven square kilometres of coral reef that starts 300 metres from the shore. There is no village and no other hotel, and no way in except the resort's own flights.

STAY

In the Bahay Kubo Form

Designed by the Filipino architect Francisco Mañosa and modelled on the traditional bahay kubo, the casitas are twin-roofed bungalows of vaulted wooden ceilings and pebble-washed walls, with large bathrooms of Cebu marble. Every casita has its own club car for the sandy paths.

THE CASITAS

Beach Casitas	twenty-three · private path to the shore
Beach Pool Casitas	six · private plunge pool
Grand Beach Pool Casita	one · 257 sq m
Treetop Pool Casitas	two · plunge pool in the canopy
Hillside & Treetop	eleven · on the hill and in the canopy

The 17 villas stand on the shoreline — bedroom pavilions around a private pool, a living and dining pavilion, an outdoor lounge and a kitchen; the four-bedroom Palawan villas sit on plots from 6,996 square metres. Each has a dedicated butler and chef.

LIFE ON THE ISLAND

Life on the Island

THE TABLE

The Clubhouse serves Filipino specialities, steaks and club classics above the main pool; the Beach Club cooks Mediterranean on the west beach and the Picnic Grove pizzas under the trees; the Lagoon Club, on the east side, is Japanese. The Kawayan Bar is a floating bamboo raft, bookable for private sunset cocktails.

THE WATER

The PADI Dive Centre works a reef that starts 300 metres from the shore — seven square kilometres of it. Snorkelling runs straight off the beach; the Sea Sports Hut keeps kayaks, paddleboards and Hobie sailboats, and the Kite and Surf Centre opens from December to March.

DAYS ON THE ISLAND

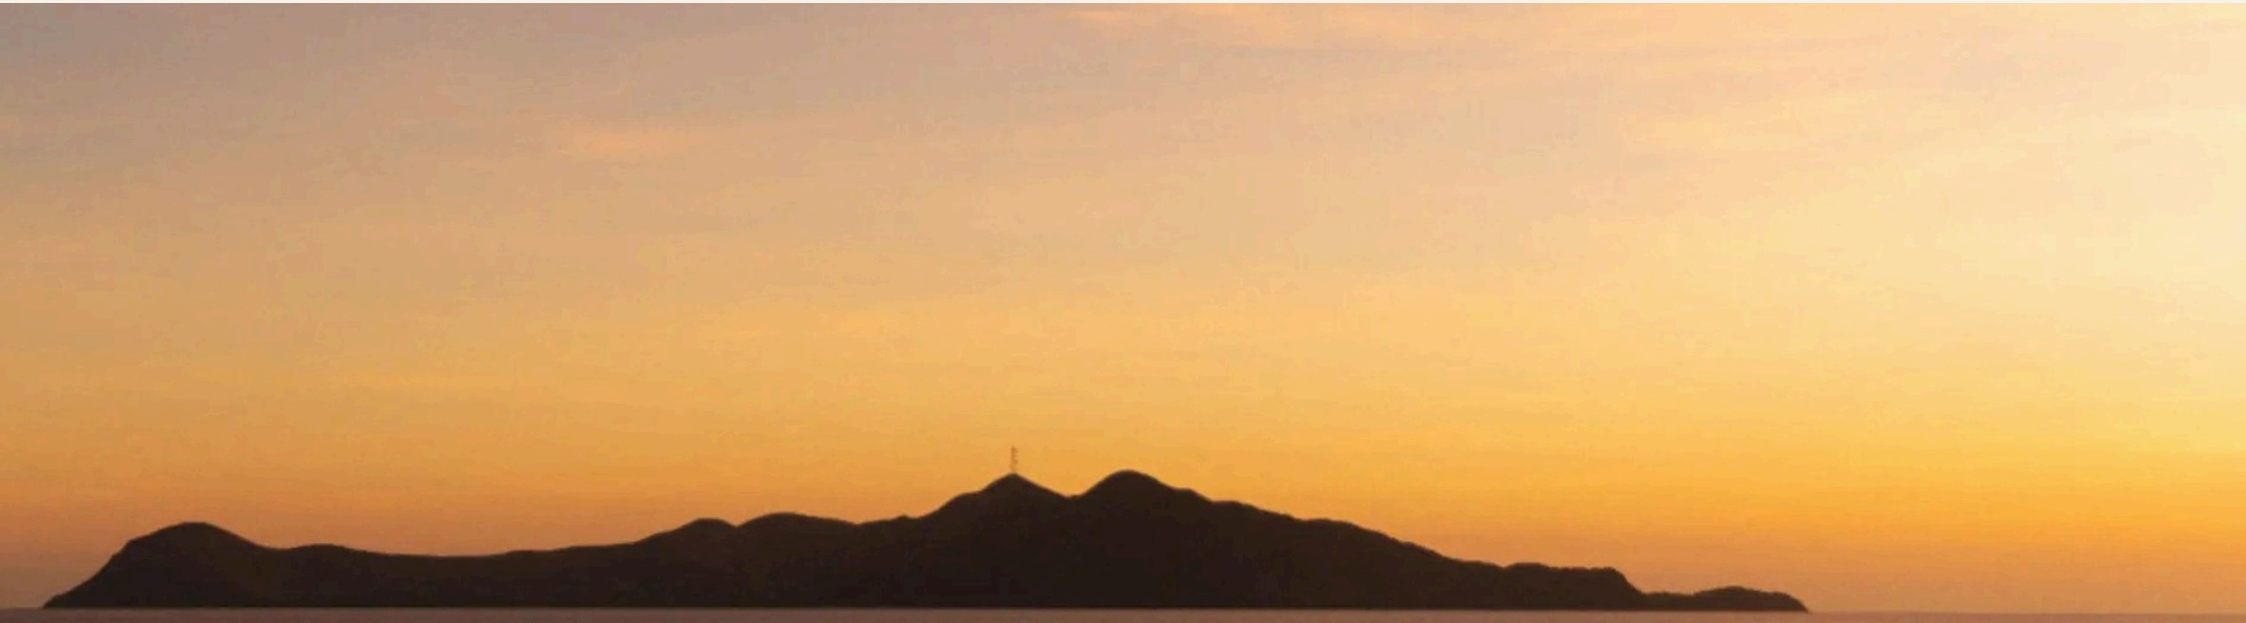

The Aman Spa occupies the hillside — six treatment suites, and the Hilot massage given over banana leaves with cold-pressed coconut oil. Beside it stand the fitness centre, the yoga pavilion and Pilates studio, three tennis courts and the organic farm; at night, the astronomical telescope comes out.

THE REGION · NORTHERN PALAWAN

The Cuyo Islands

Pamalican sits in the Quiniluban group of the Cuyo Islands, in the Sulu Sea between Palawan and Panay. The inhabited island of Manamoc lies four miles west across the channel — its village lights are the only other shore in view.

The Cuyo Islands are old volcanic islands off the tourist routes: Cuyo town, the group's capital, stands some forty miles south-east, and the resort's boats run tours to Manamoc, sandbar trips and sunset cruises across these waters.

GETTING THERE

Ninety Minutes from Clark

CLARK

THE AMANPULO LOUNGE

Every journey runs through the resort's own lounge at Clark International Airport. A car transfer between the airport and the lounge is complimentary for same-day connections.

90 MIN

THE RESORT'S OWN FLIGHT

A twin-engine turboprop on the resort's scheduled service lands on the island's own private airstrip — the only way onto Pamalican. The flights are booked through the resort.

ONLY

SINCE MARCH 2026

The scheduled flights once left Manila; since March 2026 Clark has been the only departure point. There is no public ferry and no other way in.

There is no annual closure — the resort trades year-round. The Beach Club, the Picnic Grove and the Lagoon Club open seasonally, and the Kite and Surf Centre from December to March.

CLIMATE

The Palawan Year

SEASON	HIGHS	LOWS	SEA
DEC – FEB	83–84°F	78–79°F	80–82°F	The dry season at its clearest — February is the clearest, driest month of the year
MAR – MAY	84–86°F	79–81°F	82–85°F	The hot season — May is the hottest month, the sea at its warmest; rains arrive late in May
JUN – AUG	85–86°F	80–81°F	84–85°F	The wet season — July is the wettest month of the year; the reef stays warm
SEP – NOV	85–86°F	80°F	83–84°F	The rains ease — the wet season ends in mid-November; the dry, windy season opens

THE SHORT VERSION

Figures are the long-term averages for Cuyo (WeatherSpark), the island town some forty miles south-east across the Sulu Sea. The sea is warm enough to swim in all year.

RESORT STAY — CASITAS AND VILLAS LET INDIVIDUALLY

Gold fill — Resort Stay, the only way the island is let.

AMANPULO

WHO ELSE IS THERE — 13 / 20

Sixty casitas and villas and everyone staying in them, spread over 85 hectares and 5.5 kilometres of beach — a resort's company, kept at a low density.

WHO CAN GET IN — 17 / 20

Only the resort's own scheduled flights land on the private airstrip; there is no public ferry and no day trade. Nobody is on the island who is not staying or working there.

SPACE TO DISAPPEAR — 15 / 20

85 hectares of jungle and coral sand. Villas stand on plots of thousands of square metres with their own beach frontage; casitas are screened by the island's planting.

OUT OF SIGHT, SOUND & TRAFFIC — 15 / 20

Open Sulu Sea on every side and club cars on sandy paths — but inhabited Manamoc lies in plain view across the channel, four miles west.

INVISIBLE SERVICE — 17 / 20

Aman's service model: a dedicated butler and chef in every villa, a club car with every casita — staff there when wanted, invisible when not.
