THE ARCHIPELAGO · GULF OF CHIRIQUÍ, PANAMA

Fourteen Islands, Thirteen Untouched

A private archipelago of 14 volcanic islands in the Gulf of Chiriquí, 20 miles off Panama's Pacific coast. The resort occupies one island, Isla Cavada; the other 13 are left entirely untouched.

The archipelago is a protected area under Panamanian law, its waters closed to commercial fishing, and three-quarters of it will remain undeveloped — a reserve that happens to hold a resort.

STAY

Casitas in the Rainforest

Seven casita sites are spread across Isla Cavada, each one screened by jungle and built in traditional Panamanian style — high ceilings, louvered shutters, natural fabrics. Above them sits Casa Cavada.

THE SITES

Tented Casitas (3)	hilltop · soaking tubs
Casita Mirador	1 bedroom · plunge pool
Tres Palmas & Sombras	2 bedrooms · plunge pools
Casita Grande	4 bedrooms · sleeps 8
Casa Cavada	4 bedrooms · 25 m pool · own chef

Every site has its own terrace, and most have their own pool. At Casa Cavada the service is a household of its own — a dedicated chef, bartender and house manager, and a 25-metre semi-Olympic infinity pool.

LIFE ON THE ISLAND

Life on the Island

THE TABLE

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are cooked to order at the Terraza, or served as picnics and barbecues on the empty islands. House wines, cocktails and Champagne are included, and the minibar is replenished daily.

THE WATER

Diving at more than 20 sites, snorkelling over the reef, e-foiling, wakeboarding, kayaking and sailing — with an expert team and a personal guide building each day around the group.

THE DAYS

A deserted island for the day, with shade, lunch and a two-way radio. Daily yoga, guided hikes and birdwatching, and the Secascent Spa in its garden tents — one treatment per adult is included.

THE REGION · THE GULF OF CHIRIQUÍ

Coiba & the Protected Gulf

The Gulf of Chiriquí holds one of the largest coral reef systems in the Eastern Tropical Pacific and 750 species of fish. The waters around Islas Secas are nationally protected, and commercial fishing is banned within them.

An hour away by boat, Coiba National Park — a UNESCO World Heritage Site — protects the largest island in Central America and the marine reserve around it. Excursions run there, and to the deep-sea fishing grounds beyond the protected zone.

GETTING THERE

One Hour From the Capital

PTY

PANAMA CITY INTERNATIONAL

Fly into Tocumen International Airport. The island team meets you on arrival, walks you through customs and immigration, and takes you to the resort's own aircraft.

1 HOUR

THE RESORT'S TWIN OTTER

A direct flight to the private airstrip on Isla Cavada, three to four times a week. The Twin Otter is the only aircraft authorised to land at the strip.

20 MIN

PRIVATE AVIATION VIA DAV

Guests arriving by private aircraft route through David's Enrique Malek Airport, 20 minutes away by air, and transfer on from there.

The scheduled flight is charged per person, per way, and is not included in the nightly rate. There is no public access — every arrival is arranged.

THE WILDLIFE

The Archipelago's Other Residents

THE RESIDENTS

The archipelago is one of Panama's great bird sanctuaries — 146 species, including the country's second-largest frigatebird colony, and hummingbirds working the garden flowers.

THE REEF

750 species of fish move through the Gulf: snapper schools over the reef, turtles on the snorkel sites, whale sharks in season, and diving at more than 20 sites around the islands.

THE SEASONS

From July to September the Gulf is a humpback nursery — mothers and calves in the protected bays, watched on expert-guided trips. The whales breed here every year.

THE SHORT VERSION

A protected archipelago — the wildlife was here first, and it stays.

WHO ELSE IS THERE
19 BUYOUT · 14 RESORT

At most 32 guests across eight well-separated sites on the main island — few, but present. Taken as a buyout, one group has all 14 islands entirely to itself.

WHO CAN GET IN
18 BUYOUT · 17 RESORT

Twenty miles offshore, reached only by the resort's scheduled flights to its private airstrip — the only aircraft authorised to land — or by a boat the resort sends.

SPACE TO DISAPPEAR
19 BUYOUT · 18 RESORT

Fourteen islands, thirteen of them empty: miles of rainforest trails, deserted beaches, and a whole uninhabited island that can be yours alone for the day.

OUT OF SIGHT, SOUND & TRAFFIC
16 BUYOUT · 16 RESORT

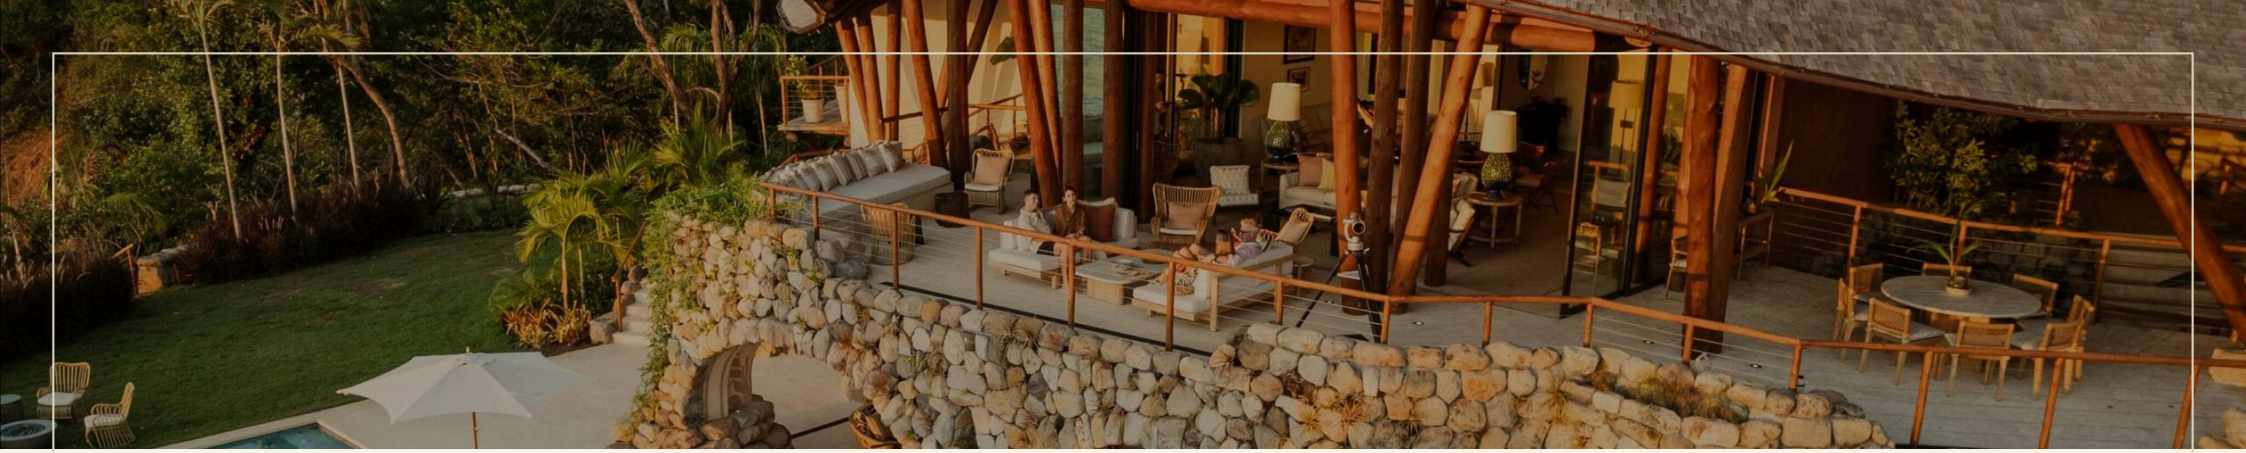

Nationally protected waters closed to commercial fishing; the only regular traffic is the resort's own boats and flights. The wider Gulf beyond is a working fishery.

INVISIBLE SERVICE
17 BUYOUT · 14 RESORT

A full expert team lives on the main island — guides, captains, chefs, therapists. Personal rather than invisible in resort weeks; wholly yours on a buyout.
